Welcome!

On behalf of the EarlyNutrition Project and the Early Nutrition Academy (ENA), the Organising Committee is delighted to welcome you to the Conference "The Power of Programming 2016 – Developmental Origins of Adiposity and Long-term Health" that takes place October 13-15, 2016 in Munich, Germany.

International experts from clinical science, basic research and epidemiological studies are brought together with a joint focus on the long-term consequences of early nutrition and lifestyle factors on obesity and related disorders. Partners of the EU funded project EarlyNutrition are happy to share their research approaches and results with colleagues from all over the world. This conference builds on our preceding and very successful international conferences in Munich in 2010 and 2014 where 500-600 participants joined for a comprehensive exchange of latest research findings.

More information on the previous conferences is available here.

We are looking forward to welcoming you in Munich!

Important Deadlines & Abstract Submission

Important Deadlines

● Start online registration	2 May 2016
● Deadline abstract submission	9 May 2016
● Acceptance of abstracts	Beginning of July 2016
● Deadline Early Bird fee	18 July 2016
● Free of charge cancellation deadline	31 August 2016
● Registration deadline abstract presenters	1 September 2016
● Deadline online registration	4 October 2016

Abstract Submission

General

- All abstracts must be submitted in English.
- Only online submissions will be considered.
- First authors of accepted abstracts are entitled to register with the Early Bird fee.
- Please follow the instructions given on the conference website <http://munich2016.project-earlynutrition.eu/>
- Acceptance of abstracts will be confirmed via email by beginning of July 2016.
- The abstracts should have a max. length of 250 words (the title a max. length of 25 words).
Tables and figures cannot be inserted.

Please note: Unfortunately, only a limited number of abstracts can be included as oral presentations. Abstracts for oral presentation are chosen for their relevance to session and if they complement the presentations already planned. This is in no way a reflection upon the quality of abstracts not chosen for oral presentation.

Categories

Abstracts can be submitted under one of four categories. Please choose the category that most closely matches your abstract to ensure that it is assigned to the correct review panel.

- Clinical / Intervention Trials
- Observational / Epidemiological Studies
- Mechanisms (e.g. molecular, (epi-) genetic, cell, animal, -omics studies)
- Economic and/or Public Health Impact / Consumer Attitudes, Recommendations, Systematic Reviews

Abstract Submission

Types of Abstract Presentations

- Oral Presentation

Up to 36 abstracts will be chosen for presentation within the parallel sessions. For an oral presentation of abstracts, a time slot of 7 minutes for presentation and 3 minutes discussion is scheduled.

Note: oral presentations must be held by the first author of the submitted abstract!

- Poster Presentation

Authors of abstracts not chosen for the oral presentation will have the opportunity to present their work as a poster presentation. The size of posters must be less than 1.2m (height) x 0.9m (width).

- Guided Poster Tour

The top ten rated posters of each category will be chosen as a „Poster of Distinction“ and the authors will have the opportunity to present their poster within the Guided Poster Tour.

New Investigator Grant:

In order to qualify for a New Investigator Grant no more than 10 years may have passed since your graduation. If applicable you may add one year for the care of each child. The 5 best rated abstracts and posters by new investigators will be awarded a travel grant of 500 Euro each – so don't hesitate to submit your abstract!

(Please note that travel grants cannot be made available prior to the conference).
